

Nothing New

As it is, everything's working as planned. We're maintaining and keeping everything from the past newsletter up and running.

Since everything is time consuming, few actual new items will exist for a while.

New & Upcoming

- Desired Expansion Info should be received this month!
- New software in Pre-alpha stage

What's with the "ankh" anyway?

No we aren't a religious affiliated corporation! Even if we may seem like a caring, religious bunch — religion isn't the reason for our policies.

An "ankh" is an Egyptian symbol, it's on many, if not most, of their hieroglyphics in tombs, and is simply, "life", "eternal life" or even "give life". And we like the way it looks.

Ankh — Life

Expansion Info Update

We currently have a general idea for how and when our expansion will be taking place. How as in how many stages. Instead of being done in a logical progression that's both cost effective and redundant to cover any potential temporary losses, it's being done in a "all or none" method.

This is the "time tested" way of doing things. Which can also be called "don't do anything new", "prove something that has never been done before can succeed", and "we'll invest once you don't need us to invest (don't call us, we'll call you)" methods.

Basically, instead of producing all the products used by the company in-house, we'll have to outsource to third parties thereby doubling to tripling our costs. Services will either have to be drastically cut back, or numerous additional costs will be incurred to modify the third party items so they'd work with the company.

Personally we believe this to be a "stupid" thing. Why pay more for things that won't work, when you could pay less and have exactly what you need? The answer? That's what investors want.

Unfortunately many business people are stuck in outdated business model thinking that's soon to go the way of the dinosaurs if it hasn't already. But until they realize it, we'll either have to conform, or have angel-investors from across the entire country just to get it up and running in one city.

We're still looking into it... We do plan on doing things in a cost-effective and logical way — just might take longer to get people to get with the real world.
